ENGLAND EXCITED.

English papers say that the quantity and kind of the explosives which have been gathered in the heart of London were appalling. There was enough to have killed thousands, and to have shattered a vast area of building. How it was collected and handled without accident seems incredible. The crown authorities at Woolwich, who examined 200 pounds of nitroglycerine brought to London by the police, shuddered to think that it had been carried in a jolting cab through the streets of London. The belief among the police is that the explosion at Westminster was designed to be a practical demonstration to the members of the conspiracy of the ease and safety to themselves with which they could act. They are convinced that the intention was to blow up a large number of public structures simultaneously, and to procure at all hazards an explosion about some part of Windsor castle, where the queen is at present living. It is also intimated that it was designed to reach, as nearly as possible, some of the members of the government.

The police entertain no doubt that Whitehead, Norman, Gallagher, Wilson and O'Connor are directly concerned in the plot on a great scale, probably aiming at a simultaneous explosion in various parts of London. It is believed there that the arrests have baffled the conspiracy for the present. The press discusses the matter with coolness and good sense. No human being doubts that the plot was Irish-American, and the connection of nearly every prisoner with America is being clearly proved. American dispatches are being scanned with interest to discover what line the American government under these circumstances will be likely to take.

Nothing that could with propriety be called a panic exists in the public mind here respecting the discoveries of plots and dynamite factories, but great uneasiness is felt in official quarters. There is much surprise here at the fact that all the plots were carried out by means of money which is openly collected in the United States for the purpose, and remitted by well known agents of the dynamite party in New York. That these agents should be allowed to pursue their operations without hindrance by the Americans is regarded as an unfriendly act, which the United States would not tolerate in its own case from another nation.

The Pall Mall Gazette points out that the bomb explodes every week in Italy, and that France, Russia, Germany and Austria are familiar with its sound, and that no one can see the direction of popular tendencies across the Atlantic without seeing before long that dynamite may be commissioned against the millionaires of the United States. The English people in general cannot view it in this light, in their unreasonable and panic-stricken frame of mind, and are convinced that Americans are, in a great part, responsible for it all.

As an example of shiftlessness, a lady traveling in North Carolina tells of the manner in which the daily work of a house among the mountains was carried on: "There seemed to be only one household appliance—a tin basin. It was first used for milking; next the biscuits were mixed in it; then it came into play as a wash basin; afterward the baby was washed in it; then it was used for cooking hominy, and, finally, the dishes were washed in it. It had served the diverse ends of dairy, kitchen and nursery!"

A merchant in the interior claims to have received the following order from a customer recently: "Please send me by barrier 5 pounds of shugor, three pounds of cofy, and sum little nales. Mi wife had a baby last nite, and to padlocks and a monkey rench."

The American Isthmus.

Charles De Lesseps, son of Count Ferdinand De Lesseps, and M. Dauzils and Captain Richier of the Panama Canal company arrived at New York last Thursday from Aspinwall. In regard to the time of completing the canal De Lesseps said:

"It is well known by those who took an interest in the prospect that the first two years were to be devoted to preparation and that the work was to begin in the third year, and that 1888 was to see the marriage of the two oceans. Such was the programme of my father, and I have no apprehension but that it will be successfully carried out."

"In what state is the work now?"

"We are now at the beginning of the third year and at the beginning of the work. We have established a line of villages from Colon to Panama. The country has been thoroughly surveyed and the actual work of excavation begun. Two large dredges are at work at Colon and two ready to begin work. One is crossing the ocean and a third very large one, from Philadelphia, was met by us being towed into the harbor of Colon as we were coming out. Steam excavators are at work all along the line."

"How many men have you employed on the work now?"

"We have at present 7000."

"Is there any difficulty on account of the sanitary condition of the country?"

"Well, as to that," said De Lesseps, motioning toward himself and Dauzils, "we are specimens of what the climate is for Europeans. We have been there for three months and traveled over every part of the line of the proposed canal. Of the 7,000 men employed only 200 are in the hospital of the company, and of these only fifteen were seriously ill."

"Work will be carried on from both sides of the isthmus, will it not?"

"Yes. In a week or so the Franco-American Dredging company will have dredgers at work at Panama. Though the excavating and dredging is now going on with all possible rapidity, it will be a year before the work will begin to look like a canal."

Indeed I have to ascribe thanks to the miraculous power of St. Jacobs Oil, writes Mr. Theo. Schultze, 601 St. Claude Street, New Orleans, La., that I am to-day among the living. That dreaded disease rheumatism, is an inherited ailment in our family. I lost a brother in 1866 by it. I also have had this painful malady five or six times each attack lasting from six to ten weeks, and so severe as to entirely disable me and prevent me from performing the slightest service. The many remedies which I used, and the doctors whom I consulted, failed to cure or even so much as relieve my pains. In the Fall of last year, about the month of October, I was again attacked by the disease, which confined me to bed, and almost crazed me with the severe pains, and no help at hand, or promise of hope of any relief. I had often heard of St. Jacobs Oil, but had about as much confidence in it as in other remedies, which was very little. Impartuned by friends, I concluded to try the Great German Remedy, and would thankfully say that it brought instant relief. In a short time I was able to sit up, my appetite returned, and the pain vanished. Since that time I have held St. Jacobs Oil in high esteem, and recommend it whenever I can find the opportunity. Thanks to those who introduced to the world this blessing to suffering mankind. Without it what would be the condition of the world to-day?

Hope for Drunkards.
My husband had drunken habits he could not overcome until Parker's Ginger Tonic took away his thirst for stimulants, restored his energy of mind and gave him strength to attend to business.—Cincinnati Lady.

Troubles of the Czar.

A St. Petersburg special says: "The grand ceremony at Moscow, at first represented as having been set for April or May at the latest, may now be put off until June. One thing is certain—the date has now been left blank in the invitations forwarded to foreign powers. Precautions of all kinds are continually invented in the hope of thwarting the efforts of the nihilists. It is now ascertained that the minister of the interior, the director of police and the general of the army have enlisted 40,000 men from the ranks of the mousjiks and promoted them to those of nobility. These men will be clothed in the garb worn by private citizens and stationed on the day of the coronation between the palace of Petrowski and Kremlin. They will mingle with the crowds and appear as mere lookers-on. All will be armed and will have the password and will be organized to act in a body against the nihilists or other disturbers of the ceremonies. Moreover in each house in Moscow one person who is not the usual janitor, has been designated by the police, who will be held responsible for the doings of the inhabitants of such house. These preparations are expected to constitute a strict guard over the whole population of the city. These persons singled out by the police to do such guard duty are as so many hostages in the hands of the authorities, their own lives and liberty depending on the good behavior of every inhabitant in each house."

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low cost short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall-St., N. Y.

King of the Blood
Is not a "cure all." It is a blood-purifier and tonic. Impurity of the blood poisons the system, deranges the circulation, and thus induces many disorders, known by different names to distinguish them according to effects, but being really branches or phases of that great generic disorder, Impurity of Blood. Such are Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Nervous Disorders, Headache, Backache, General Weakness, Heart Disease, Dropsy, Kidney Disease, Piles, Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Skin Disorders, Pimples, Eruptions, Scurvy, etc. King of the Blood prevents and cures these by attacking the cause, impurity of the blood. Chemists and physicians agree in calling it "the most genuine and efficient preparation for the purpose." Sold by Druggists, $1 per bottle. See testimonials, directions, etc., in pamphlet, "Treatise on Diseases of the Blood," wrapped around each bottle. D. RANSOM, SON & Co., Props Buffalo, N. Y.

The fish commissioners of California have resolved to put 20,000,000 of young salmon in the California rivers this year. They still purchase the young fish for the purpose of keeping up the fish supply of the Sacramento river.

Herr Most spoke at a meeting of workmen last Sunday afternoon in Philadelphia. He advocated communism and said the time was ripe for a revolution which, he thought, will soon sweep over Europe and America. He declared the czar would not be crowned, and approved the course of Irish terrorists and dynamiters.

SYMPTOMS OF WORMS.
The maintenance is pale and leaden-colored, with occasional flushes of a circumscribed spot on one or both cheeks; the eyes become dull; the pupils dilate; an acute semicircle runs along the lower eyelid; the nose is irritated, sore, and sometimes bleeds; a swelling of the upper lip; occasional headache, with humming or throbbing of the ears; an unusual secretion of saliva; slimy or furred tongue; breath very foul, particularly in the morning; appetite variable, sometimes voracious, with a gnawing sensation of the stomach; at others, entirely gone; floating pains in the stomach; occasional nausea and vomiting; violent pains throughout the abdomen; bowels irregular, at times constive; stools slimy, not unfrequently tinged with blood; belly swollen and hard; urine turbid, respiratory occasionally difficult and accompanied by hiccupping; cough sometimes dry and convulsive; uneasy and disturbed sleep, with grinding of the teeth; temper variable, but generally irritable. Whenever the above symptoms are found to exist,
